Draft Recommendations to the Review Conference

The Preparatory Committee conveys to the 2010 Review Conference the following recommendations concerning the implementation of the Treaty, which build upon the three Decisions as well as the Resolution on the Middle East adopted at the 1995 Review and Extension Conference, and the Final Document adopted at the 2000 Review Conference. The Preparatory Committee believes that these recommendations, which were based on statements and working papers by States parties, identify practical initiatives that stand a reasonable prospect of producing a consensus. These recommendations are conveyed without regard to their priority, without prejudice to other initiatives that States parties may wish to offer, and without any intention to represent a comprehensive summary of all initiatives proposed in Preparatory Committee sessions.

1. Declaration on the universality of disarmament and non-proliferation principles.

- a. Declare that the Treaty is an expression of fundamental principles of nuclear disarmament and non-proliferation that are universal in scope. Affirm the legally binding nature of the obligations of the treaty. Recognize the fundamental importance of full compliance with all the provisions of the Treaty and the relevant IAEA safeguards agreements. Emphasize that responses to concerns over compliance with obligations under the Treaty should be pursued by peaceful diplomatic means.
- b. Declare that the Treaty remains the cornerstone of the global nuclear disarmament and non-proliferation regime and that its full implementation is vital to international peace and security. Further declare that the Treaty provides a legal foundation for the strengthening of the international nuclear non-proliferation regime, and for the achievement of nuclear disarmament and the ultimate objective of general and complete disarmament under effective international control.
- c. Reaffirm the commitment shared by States parties to achieving universal membership and call upon all states that are not parties to adhere to the Treaty promptly and without preconditions. Resolve to engage non-parties with a view to achieving this goal.

2. An action plan to achieve nuclear disarmament, including specific practical measures.

- a. Reaffirm the commitments of States parties under Article VI relating to nuclear disarmament, and to general and complete disarmament. Recognize growing expectations for progress to achieve nuclear disarmament, and indicate support for ongoing and future efforts in these fields.
- b. Acknowledge that several commitments relating to disarmament made at the 1995 Review and Extension Conference and at the 2000 Review Conference have not yet been fulfilled. Consider the adoption of an action plan, drawing inter alia upon commitments made at these earlier Conferences, setting practical, achievable and specified goals, and measures leading to the elimination of nuclear weapons.
- c. Identify several practical disarmament initiatives, including: the entry into force of the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty and, pending its achievement, maintaining the moratoria on nuclear testing; commencing negotiations at the Conference on Disarmament on a verifiable fissile material treaty and, pending the conclusion of negotiations, encouraging a moratorium on the further production of weapon-usable fissile material; achieving deep and verifiable reductions in the nuclear arsenals; expanding the transparency in implementing disarmament commitments; ensuring the irreversibility of disarmament activities; reducing the operational status of the nuclear forces; diminishing further the role of nuclear weapons in security policies; refraining from the qualitative improvement of nuclear weapons; reducing non-strategic nuclear weapons pending their elimination; and placing fissile material recovered from dismantled nuclear weapons under IAEA monitoring and verification. Examine, inter alia, ways and means to commence negotiations, in accordance with article VI, on a convention or framework of agreements to achieve global nuclear disarmament, and to engage non-parties to the Treaty.

3. Ways and means to strengthen non-proliferation; promote and strengthen safeguards.

- a. Reaffirm that the proliferation of nuclear weapons is a global challenge requiring a global response and underscore the urgent need for States parties to pursue strengthened ways and means to achieve the objectives of articles I, II, and III.
- b. Reaffirm that IAEA safeguards are a fundamental pillar of the nuclear non-proliferation regime, play an essential role in the implementation of the Treaty and contribute to create an environment conducive to achieving nuclear disarmament and cooperation in the peaceful uses of nuclear energy.
- c. Reaffirm that the International Atomic Energy Agency is the sole competent authority responsible for verifying and assuring compliance with its safeguards agreements undertaken in fulfilment of article III, paragraph 1, of the Treaty. Welcome the efforts of the Agency to strengthen safeguards as well as the steps taken to assist states in their application. Identify specific measures that would serve to promote the universalization and strengthening of the IAEA safeguards system.
- d. Affirm the need for additional multilateral cooperation to prevent the establishment, perpetuation, or growth of clandestine nuclear supply networks, in accordance with international law.
- e. Affirm that export controls are best addressed and implemented in a transparent and non-discriminatory manner, and without hampering the development of nuclear energy for peaceful uses, in conformity with articles I, II, III, and IV of the Treaty.

f. Affirm the importance of effective assurances that nuclear-weapon States will not use or threaten to use nuclear weapons against non-nuclear-weapon States parties. Examine ways and means to achieve additional assurances that are legally binding.

4. Measures to advance peaceful uses of nuclear energy, safety, and security.

a. Reaffirm the inalienable right of States parties under article IV to develop research, production and use of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes, without discrimination and in conformity with articles I, II and III of the Treaty. Welcome growing applications of nuclear technology in health care, industry, agriculture, and environmental protection.

b. Reiterate that restrictions on the peaceful uses of nuclear energy should not be applied for political purposes.

c. Commend the importance of the IAEA's Technical Cooperation Programme, underlining that such cooperation has played an important role in facilitating the application of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes especially in developing countries. Stress the need to support such cooperation with adequate financial and human resources in an assured and predictable manner.

d. Stress the need to intensify consideration of multilateral approaches to the nuclear fuel cycle and assurances of the supply of nuclear fuel and technology. Indicate that such proposals should be addressed in a multilateral, economically viable and non-discriminatory manner under the auspices of IAEA, without restrictions on access to nuclear material, equipment, and technology for peaceful purposes as provided for in the Treaty. Confirm that each country's choices and decisions in the field of peaceful uses of nuclear energy should be respected without jeopardizing its policies or international cooperation agreements and arrangements for peaceful uses of nuclear energy and its fuel-cycle policies.

e. Highlight the importance of strengthening nuclear safety, radiation protection, the safety of radioactive waste management, and the safe transport of nuclear and radioactive materials, including maritime transport. Underscore the need to maintain the highest standards of safety at civilian nuclear installations through national measures and international cooperation.

f. Emphasize that the acquisition of nuclear weapons or related materials by non-State actors would constitute a threat to international peace and security that could potentially jeopardize the Treaty. Affirm the importance of the full implementation of Security Council resolutions 1540 (2004), 1673 (2006) and 1810 (2008), as well as the International Convention for the Suppression of Acts of Nuclear Terrorism.

g. Stress the importance of combating nuclear terrorism and endorse the IAEA action plan on protection against nuclear terrorism. Endorse the IAEA's work in support of States' efforts to prevent the illicit trafficking in nuclear and other radioactive material and underscore the importance of contributions to the Nuclear Security Fund of IAEA. Urge the careful consideration of measures of control and monitoring of global stocks of materials directly usable in nuclear weapons and the capacity to produce such materials.

h. Welcome the contributions of the IAEA in the promotion of the physical protection of nuclear material and safety in all its aspects. Call upon all states that had not yet done so to accede to all relevant conventions on nuclear safety, safe waste management and physical protection of nuclear material and the IAEA Code of Conduct on the Safety and Security of Radioactive Sources. Support efforts to enhance the security of stockpiles of weapon-usable fissile materials, while minimizing their use in the civilian nuclear sector. Stress the importance of maintaining dialogue on facilitating safe maritime transport of radioactive material.

5. Ways and means to implement regional non-proliferation and disarmament initiatives, including the 1995 Resolution on the Middle East, and to explore future initiatives.

- a. Reaffirm that nuclear-weapon-free zones have made and continue to make an important contribution to the strengthening of the international nuclear non-proliferation regime in all its aspects, and to the achievement of nuclear disarmament and the ultimate objective of general and complete disarmament under effective international control. Support increased cooperation among the parties to all the zones. Consider calling for the consideration of the establishment of new zones in regions with nuclear facilities or materials. Recognize the importance of the establishment of regional zones free of weapons of mass destruction.
- b. Welcome the establishment of the Central Asia Nuclear-Weapon-Free Zone and also recognize and affirm the nuclear-weapon-free status of Mongolia. Endorse and reaffirm the goal of achieving the early entry into force of the Pelindaba Treaty. Encourage the nuclear-weapon States to adhere to the Protocols of all treaties establishing nuclear-weapon-free zones. Note the existence of strong support for the creation of a nuclear-weapon-free zone in the Southern Hemisphere, consistent with international law and the law of the sea.
- c. Recall that the Resolution on the Middle East was integrally linked to the Decision by the 1995 Review and Extension Conference to extend indefinitely the duration of the Treaty. Underscore the need for increased efforts to implement the Resolution. Consider the proposal to call upon the nuclear-weapon States to convene a conference of all states of the Middle East region to address ways and means to implement the Resolution. Invite all States parties to undertake consultations with a view to facilitating the convening of such a conference. Call upon all States parties to issue periodic reports to each of the Preparatory Committees and the Review Conference on their efforts implement the Resolution.

6. Measures to address the risk of Treaty withdrawals.

- a. Acknowledge the right to withdraw from the Treaty, in accordance with article X.
- b. Consider the proposals presented in the Preparatory Committee that identified modalities under which States parties could collectively respond to notifications of withdrawal.

7. Initiatives to strengthen the review process, including possible institutional measures.

- a. Affirm the essential role of the strengthened review process in ensuring the effectiveness of the Treaty in changing international security environments, in enhancing transparency, in strengthening accountability in the implementation of all the provisions of the Treaty, and in promoting its universality. View the decisions and the resolution adopted in the 1995 Review and Extension Conference and the Final Document adopted at the 2000 Review Conference as embodying principles, objectives, or means to serve this goal.
- b. Affirm that the strengthened review process has become an indispensable, dynamic mechanism for the interpretation of the Treaty and for evaluating its operation and implementation. Recognize that several proposals advocating the need for certain institutional and procedural reforms have been submitted by States parties, including the need for securing the adequate financial support for and the cost-efficiency of the review process. Give due consideration and undertake a thorough evaluation of these proposals with a view to achieving a consensus on agreed measures to strengthen further the review process.
- c. Stress that enhancing transparency and accountability among all States parties in regard to their obligations under the Treaty should remain a constant endeavor of the States parties. Consider establishing a uniform, practical and cost-efficient reporting system for the implementation of the Treaty.

8. Ways and means to promote engagement with civil society in strengthening NPT norms and in promoting disarmament and non-proliferation education.

- a. Commend the contributions of the civil society and especially of Non-Governmental Organizations (NGO) to the strengthened review process of the Treaty and in the efforts to promote the vision of a world free of nuclear weapons by developing proposals on practical measures to achieve this vision. Consider the substantive proposals made during the Preparatory Committee sessions for the enhanced participation of NGOs in this process.

- b. Underscore the importance of disarmament and non-proliferation education as a useful and effective means to advance the goals of the Treaty in addressing both current and emerging challenges. Encourage States parties to implement the recommendations contained in the report of the Secretary-General of the United Nations (A/57/124) regarding the UN study on disarmament and non-proliferation education.
